

AIR TIME eNEWSLETTER

Happy New Year

Let me say at the beginning of this e-mail, I'm not out to spoil your Holiday Season! However, I wanted to let you know that I have just published a book entitled The Un-Divine Comedy of Campaign 2012: Political Commentary in Rhyme. The book is a collection of my political spoofs aimed at providing a running commentary on activities and events leading up to the November 6th election. From "Twas a Month Before Iowa" to "On Women In Binders," these poems poke fun at the rather hellish politics we have experienced during the last twelve months.

Most of these rhymes first appeared in StreetVibes, the biweekly newspaper of the Homeless Coalition, and over the year, some of you have been kind enough to say you enjoyed them. You can preview the book by going to - www.Blurb.com/bookstore/detail/3863878. In the spirit of the season, here is one of the pieces from the book's section entitled "The Campaign Carol Sing Along.

DECK THE HALLS

Deck the halls with green soft money.

Fa-la-la-la-la- attack ads too.

It's a campaign's milk and honey.

Fa-la-la-la-la- attack ads too.

Now our polls opinions measure.

Fa-la-la-la-la-la- attack ads too.

While we hustle campaign treasure.

Fa-la-la-la-la- attack ads too!

For a contribution to Applied Information Resources of $100 or more, we will send a free copy of this book. Donate

Our Mission

AIR, Inc. enables people, organizations and governments to make well-informed decisions regarding policies, human services, and organizational change in response to changing needs and resources.

To remove your name from our mailing list, please click here.

Questions or comments? E-mail us at air@airinc.org or call 513-381-4994